Oh, Space Ghost, Metallus has caught us in his tractor beam!

By the thousand demons!

Metallus, a large, silver, armored figure with a helmet and a large 'M' on his chest, is standing in a control room. He is looking towards the left. The room has a wooden floor and walls, and a window showing a view of space with a planet and stars.

HAHAHAHA
Finally, the great Space
Ghost caught in my trap!

Metallus is triumphant!

You will not escape
this time!

Space Ghost, a black, featureless figure with a gold cape, and Siren, a blonde woman in a yellow and blue suit with a black mask, are standing in a control room. They are looking towards the left. The room has a wooden floor and walls, and a window showing a view of space with a planet and stars.

Our force field will not hold out for much longer!

What are we gonna do Space Ghost?

I'm thinking of a solution, Jan! You still have not received word from Jace on the communicator?

Nothing yet! I've been trying for over 15 minutes, but he has yet to respond!

Metallus

We won't be hearing from Metallus anytime soon. Right now he's running for his life!

Lucky for us, he probably thinks we're dead

For now, we are safe!

But we are stuck on this frozen planet! The ship is damaged and the communicator is broken!

What will we do?

We have hope! I left Jace and Blip on the monitor!

Once he realizes that we are outside the established area with communications, he will come for us!

How about that huh Blip? Space Ghost and Jan stationed out and we have peace, quiet, and all the time in the world for playing video games!
